

All about Billy...

Billy is always happy and smiling.

He enjoys playing outside, but especially at the park or beach.

Billy enjoys playing with natural materials such as wood chippings or stones, but he may throw them.

Loud noises can scare Billy.

If upset, or his needs are not being met, Billy may hit, bite or head butt others.

Important to Billy...

Time to play with his parents and brothers is important.

Routine is also important to Billy.

Billy needs opportunities to be independent, choose his own ways to play and be able to explore.

How best to support Billy...

Objects of Reference alongside the spoken word will help Billy understand what he is required to do.

Awareness that Billy is sensitive to certain materials and clothing is important. He does not like 'fluffy' textures, including teddies, and he will constantly remove his shoes and socks.

Billy uses gestures and vocalisations to communicate, so time, patience and understanding are needed.

Billy receives support from the Visual Impairment Team.

Billy wears nappies.

Help with feeding is necessary.
