Course Contents

- Review of the pilot project undertaken last year.
- Guidance on effective conversations between settings across the four broad areas of need.
- Opportunities for each phase to share key information they feel the other phase needs to understand.
- Exploration of what makes transition successful from the perspectives of both parents and children.
- Information on next steps in relation to transition planning and available support from the Local Authority.

What's in it for you?

- Gain a clear overview of the pilot project and access the paperwork developed by the working group.
- Receive practical guidance from SEND services to support effective SENCO/Transition Lead conversations between phases.
- Have the opportunity to share key information with the other phase about what you feel is important for them to know.

Outcomes

- To develop the skills and confidence to hold effective transition meetings, ensuring that all relevant information is shared to support smooth transitions for pupils.
- To increase awareness of the support available from the Local Authority in facilitating transition from primary to secondary school.
